Genoua, Dec. 21.

THE Nonſuch and Centurion Frigats, which have been ſo long expected, are not yet arrived; but we have advice of ſix Ships that have been ſeen off of St. Remo, ſtanding to the Eaſtward. Our Letters from Marſeilles give an account, That 8 Galleys were fitting out there, being deſigned hither, to try if our Senate will upon ſecond thoughts permit them to Winter in their Arſenal.

Genoua, Jan. 3. Not any Ships have arrived here theſe Holydays; neither have we as yet any News of the Centurion or Nonſuch, ſo that there is Inſurance upon them at 4 per Cent. This Senate is ſending an Envoy Extraordinary for France, to repreſent to that Court the reaſons that have induced them to refuſe the leave which was demanded for the French Galleys to Winter here.

Marſeilles, Jan. 3. Eight French Galleys are fitting out here, with all diligence, for Genoua. The Chevalier de Valbelle is ſailed with 3 Men of War from Thoulon for Tripoli, to endeavour to oblige that Government to a Peace. The Argierines have of late taken 11 or 12 French Veſſels, ſome of them very rich.

Venice, Dec. 22. Prince Radzeville the Poliſh Ambaſſador continues at Pontieba, and will do ſo till an Expreſs he has ſent to Poland be come back. In the mean time this Senate has let him know, That they cannot give the Crown of Poland any Aſſiſtance againſt the Turks, ſeeing it would draw a new War upon them, who have not yet recovered what they ſuffered in the laſt, nor paid the Debts they then contracted.

Dantzick, Dec. 25. It is about a year ſince that great diſturbances happened here among the Commonalty, in the heat of which they fell upon the Carmelite Friers, offered ſome Violences to their perſons and plundered their Cloiſter, which might have gone farther, but that the Care of our Magiſtrates put a ſtop to the diſorder, ſome of the Ring-leaders being committed to Priſon, who were afterwards all diſcharged except two or three of the moſt culpable. The King of Poland reſented the thing highly, writ a Letter to our Magiſtrates, requiring them to puniſh exemplarily the Authors of this Riot, and to make ſatisfaction to the Friers; but nothing was done thereupon, and in this ſtate this matter has ever ſince continued, which is now brought upon the Board again; for the laſt week came hither the Weywode of Pomeren, in quality of the King of Poland's Commiſſioner, to examine this matter, and to require Juſtice to be done upon the Offenders; and we are told that our Magiſtrates, to ſatisfy the King, have reſolved that the Criminals that are now in Priſon ſhall be brought to condign puniſhment.

Hamburg, Jan. 5. The Danes have not yet evacuated Wiſmar, on account of ſome Arrears of Contributions that remain owing to them. Count Conningſmark, Governour General of Pomeren for the King of Sueden, continues ſtill here, and will do ſo till the Moneys which are to be remitted hither from France are ready to be paid to the Duke of Zell, who upon payment thereof will reſtore to him the Dutchies of Bremen and Verdun. The Biſhop of Oſnabrug, who was on his way to Italy, is, upon the News of his Brother the Duke of Hanover's death, coming back to take poſſeſſion of that Dukes Territories, which, in purſuance of a contract made between the three Brothers, fall to him; and when the Duke of Zell, who has only one Daughter, which by the Laws of the Empire has no Right of Succeſſion, comes to dye, the Biſhop of Oſnabrug, or at leaſt his Son, will become yet more conſiderable by the acquiſition likewiſe of what that Duke is now poſſeſſed of.

Stralſund, Jan. 20. Theſe Parts are full of Complaints againſt the proceedings of the French, who have not yet ſuffered the poor Inhabitants to enjoy any effects of the Peace, but on the contrary continue to oppreſs them with thoſe exceſſive Contributions they now demand of them, and particularly of the Country of Brilgow. The Swiſſe Cantons are extreamly concerned that, notwithſtanding their repeated inſtances at the French Court to the contrary, the Fortifications at Hunningen are ſtill continued, and will be ſuddenly finiſhed, which they look upon to be intended for a Bridle upon them.

Hague Jan. 12. To the Memorials of the Imperial and Cologne Miniſters demanding the Evacuation of Haſſel and Maſeyck, the States have Anſwered, That they are ready to comply with his Electoral Highneſs's deſire therein, provided he give this State ſatisfaction in the pretentions they have upon him, as well on account of the Contributions and of what his Electoral Highneſs owes to the Inhabitants of Deventer and Swol for Merchandizes bought of them, as of the exactions made on the ſaid Inhabitants, at the time thoſe places were evacuated by that Electors Troops, contrary to the expreſs Articles of the Treaty of Peace. From Weſel they write, that the French would ſuddenly quit the Dutchy of Cleves, but that they pretended firſt to have paid them 21 9000 Crowns. The Elector of Brandenburg has given the Government of that Country, which Prince Maurits of Naſſaw, lately Deceaſed, had, to the Electoral Prince his Son.

Paris, Jan. 17. On Saturday laſt the Duke de Crequi parted hence for Munick, whither he is ſent by the King in quality of his Ambaſſador Extraordinary to aſſiſt at the Ceremony of the Marriage, which it's ſaid will be performed on the 28th inſtant, and to conduct the Princeſs hither. The King and Queen part from St. Germains the
